Lesson Policy

Lessons occur at the same time each week, paid for at the beginning of each month depending on how many scheduled lessons are in the given month. In the event that the student needs to cancel a lesson, a makeup may be given as availability allows, but is not guaranteed. An additional $5 travel fee may apply to receive a makeup. If a cancelation occurs on my end, the lesson will either be made up or credited on your next payment. There will be no refunds. If a student knows at the time of payment that they will not be able to receive a lesson at their regular time (e.g. vacations, special events, etc.), an attempt will be made to reschedule that lesson ahead of time. Because I reserve a specific weekly time for the student, all weeks in each month (excluding holidays and time missed on my end) must be paid for. As a courtesy, when possible, please give at least a 24 hour notice for any cancelations.
